WHY THIS DIRECTION

Moves away from the category default. Most security brands use dark gradients, glowing shields and locks. This set uses flat, Swiss-editorial layouts: oversized type, a visible grid, crop marks and monospace system labels. Teramind colors, used as solid fields. Orange for the trial, near-black for the demo, warm paper for the live demo. Each offer gets its own instantly recognizable color. Honest product, not metaphors. Each ad shows one small real UI element (workday meter, activity log, the actual live demo screens). Positive, data-first tone. "Facts, not guesswork" and "on the record" frame the data as proof and protection, not surveillance.
